SECTION A : Give a communicative summary of the report given in 100 words :

In terms of sales and distribution of the products, the company has an aggressive strategy which aims at increasing the availability and visibility of its products throughout the country. This was achieved during the year by undertaking various initiatives to expand the company's distribution foot print. One of the major highlights was increase in number of outlets, which went up to 6.7 million from 6.3 million in the previous year. Today, the company has significantly strengthened its rural footprint by reaching close to 44,000 villages across the country. In addition, the company has also increased its direct reach from 1.02 million to 1.1 million, an increase of around 8%. Overall, the rural segment continued to grow faster on account of increased rural distribution, sales promotion and portfolio expansion. The focus to grow the direct reach in rural through super stockist and sub-stockist network and split of front end field force into HPC and HC verticals led to good growth for the key brands and increase in the number of lines and brand sold. The company has been focusing on growing its distribution network not only in traditional trade but also in emerging channels like modern trade and e-commerce. E-commerce channel, which has been scaling up well for the company, contributed 1.4% to sales as compared to 0.8% a year ago. This channel experienced the fastest expansion with growth of 95.8%. Brands such health supplements, real juices, their oils, oral care and home care products saw good traction on e-commerce platforms. For this purpose, the company has put in place a specialised team equipped with the relevant skills. The team is engaging with each of the e-commerce platforms to enhance visibility and build customer engagement. The company focused on IT enablement as a major driver of enhancing productivity and field force efficiency.
